ESTABLISHED FEBRUARY 7, 1884. McKINNEY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOV. 16, 1933.— —EIGHT PAGES FIFTY-ONE YEARS

MOST OF RIGHT-OF-WAY SECURED FOR HIGHWAY

According to County Judge J. Frank Harrington, the County Commissioners Court has been able to secure a large portion of the right-of-way for the proposed highway located between the concrete stretch of road south of the city and extending to the Dallas county line.

"It is necessary that all the right-of-way be secured by Nov. 20, or else we'll lose our appropriation for this project," Judge Harrington said Wednesday, "and the improvements will not be built if such is the case." He added that the Commissioners Court may find it necessary to condemn certain sections along the proposed route, in order to secure permission of all property owners. The land needed in these cases will not be condemned, he said, unless the owner refuses to sign up along with others, whose land is needed for the new highway.

Judge Harrington added that most of the land owners along the route to be traversed had already signed up for this new highway.

SCOTTY FORSYTH'S BROTHER IN LAW 50TH ANNIVERSARY

QUEEN MARY AND PRINCE OF WALES VISITED HIS BAKERY

J. S. (Scotty) Forsyth has received a copy of the Baker's Record of issue, October 26, 1933, which has a very interesting news item to Mr. Forsyth and his family. The item is concerning the Golden Wedding anniversary, October 15, of Mr. and Mrs. Manson of London, the groom being a brother of the first wife of Mr. Forsyth, who passed away in McKinney. One of Mr. Forsyth's four living sons is named Manson for his mother's brother. They were married, October 15, 1883, quoting the Baker's Record:

"Their first venture in business was in Bow, but forty-eight years ago they moved to Kennington Cross, and have been there ever since. Their shop is on the state of the Duchy of Cornwall, and on the occasion the Prince of Wales came and inspected the property, and on the second occasion, he was accompanied by Queen Mary, who looked over the bakery.

"Mr. Manson still works very hard. He rises at 4 a. m. and does a full day's work. Nobody would know he is 76 years of age. Mrs. Manson also puts in twelve hours' work in the shop every day, and each will tell you that hard work never kills.

"Their three surviving daughters are all married, and Mr. and Mrs. Manson are the proud grandparents of eight grandchildren.

"Mr. Manson has taken his full share of trade responsibility. He is a born fighter. He has passed through the chair of the Protection Society, and has done splendid work for the London baking trade and is still doing it. He is a good example for a young man to follow. Our readers will unite in congratulating this happy couple on reaching so wonderful a record, and trust that they may be long spared together to enjoy a full measure of good health and overwhelming happiness."

Mrs. G. H. Wilson of Corsicana, visited our office Wednesday, renewing her subscription to the Weekly Democrat-Gazette for the ensuing year. Mrs. Wilson is present on a few days' visit to her daughter, Mrs. Earl Carol and family, at Melissa. We appreciate her friendship and patronage.

OFFICER, WHO ATTRACTED NATION-WIDE INTEREST, MKINNEY VISITOR THIS WEEK

CITY MARSHAL W. W. PITMAN, OF WHARTON, TEXAS, UNUSUAL EXPERIENCE BACK IN 1915; AS A RESULT OF ITS ODDITY, DECLARED NATIONAL WINNER IN "BELIEVE IT OR NOT" CONTEST.

W. W. Pitman, city marshal of Wharton, Texas, fifty-five miles southwest of Houston; and E. J. Koehl, chief deputy sheriff, in Wharton county, and their wives were in McKinney Tuesday where Messrs. Pitman and Koehl appeared as witnesses in a Fifty-Ninth District court case.

City Marshal Pitman gained unusual distinction eighteen years ago, in 1915. As City Marshal then, he was "shooting it out" with an intoxicated Mexican on the streets of Wharton. A bullet from Marshal Pitman's gun struck and lodged in the magazine of the Mexican's gun, rendering it useless and making possible the Mexican's arrest. This was such an unusual incident that the papers of the South and Central Texas gave it much publicity, especially in Houston.

When Robert Ripley conducted his "Believe It Or Not" contest last year, the Houston papers urged Chief Pitman to send in this experience, and out of 1,500,000 entries, he won one of the nine prizes awarded, he and his wife being given a free trip to Cuba last year. They flew to New York, by airplane, taking a boat to Cuba. This was an unusually pleasant trip, and entirely unexpected, seventeen years after the incident had happened. Ripley requested the gun and it has been in his "Odditorium" at the World's Fair in Chicago.

MRS. R. B. WILLIS PASSED AWAY IN CROCKETT, TEXAS

BURIAL LITTLE ELM CEMETERY FORMER McKINNEY WOMAN

Relatives and friends in McKinney have received the sad news of the death of Mrs. R. B. (Bertis) Willis, about 40, who passed away in a Crockett, Texas, hospital at 11:00 o'clock Tuesday night, following an operation for appendicitis performed last Friday. Mrs. Willis and her husband formerly resided in McKinney for several years where he was connected with the Texas Power & Light company, going to Crockett several years ago where he is connected with the same company. He is a son of J. H. Willis and a nephew of A. J. Willis, both of McKinney and also a brother of Haskell Willis, who operates a suburban grocery store here.

Mrs. Willis was the niece of Mrs. R. L. Ray of this city.

The Byrum Undertaking home of Frisco brought the body back to the home of Will Clark in that city last Wednesday afternoon where remained until funeral services Thursday afternoon, November 16, at 2:00 o'clock. Burial followed in the Little Elm cemetery. The deceased is survived by her husband, R. B. Willis; her father, seven brothers and two sisters. Her mother passed away several years ago. Their only child, Jack Ray Willis, preceded her to the grave about three years ago. He is also buried at Little Elm.

Her passing is mourned by a large number of friends and relatives in this city and county. She was a native of Denton county and a member of the Christian church.

Hon. G. R. Smith, well-known McKinney barrister and orator, was guest speaker before the Business Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church, Sunday morning at their regular Sunday school class meeting. Hon. Mr. Smith brought a forceful and inspiring message, his lecture being based on "The First Commandment." He taught the class in the absence of the teacher, Prof. W. S. Smith.

NEW PRINCETON METHODIST PASTOR VISITS M'KINNEY

Rev. Frank Wilkinson, the new pastor of the Methodist church at Princeton, was a business caller at the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette office Saturday afternoon. He and his wife and little 10-year-old daughter, Frances Beth, recently moved into the excellent parsonage property at Princeton, from Pickton charge in the Sulphur Springs district, where he served as pastor last year. Rev. Mr. Wilkinson will give the Princeton church half time and divide the other half between the churches at Henslee Chapel, Bomar Chapel and Culleoka. He will preach at Princeton on the first and third Sundays in each month; at Henslee Chapel, morning and evening, on second Sundays; at Bomar Chapel, morning and evening, on the fourth Sunday and will preach at 3:00 o'clock on the third Sunday afternoon at the Culleoka church. This editor has known and appreciated Rev. Mr. Wilkinson's friendship for several years. A few years ago he served two years as pastor at Seagoville, in the McKinney district. We are glad to welcome him, his good wife and daughter, back to the district again. They are fine people. He has served eighteen years as a Methodist pastor—all that time in this Annual Conference.

J. H. Timmons, well-known farmer of the Blythes Chapel community, was a McKinney business visitor Wednesday and came by our office for a visit. Mr. Timmons left us a nice mess of hog liver while in town, which we greatly appreciate. Mr. Timmons lives on the farm of Judge G. R. Smith and is one of the county's best-known farmers. He is a firm believer in diversification. We appreciate Mr. Timmons' friendship and we would feel disappointed if he failed to [illegible]

McKinney Observes Nov. 11 in Fitting Manner

With the American Legion Post No. 98 of this city in the lead, McKinney appropriately observed the fifteenth anniversary of Armistice, Saturday, November 11. An all-day program that began early Saturday morning with a "Kangaroo Court" on the public square, and continued through a barbecue for war veterans and their families at the W. O. W. Hall Saturday night, was thoroughly enjoyed by McKinneyites.

Following the Kangaroo Court in which every citizen who ventured downtown was "arrested" taken before "the court" and fined from five cents on up, a memorial program was held in the district court room of the court house, all stores closing for the occasion.

The memorial services, presided over by Post Commander Phil Wolford featured by addresses from Dr. Bryce Miller, Rev. F. Lamar McGown, pastor of the South Wilcox Methodist church and chaplain of the local Jimmie Geigas Post, and Hon. W. P. (Billy) Abernathy chairman of the Red Cross Roll Call drive in this city, who made a splendid appeal to local citizens to support this worthy project.

Program Features.

Other features of this program included blowing of taps at 11:00 a. m. by Hi Wilmeth; invocation and benediction by Dr. R. L. Cowan, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; song, "America" by the audience; music by the Parris quartette and a reading by Miss Dora Jean Davis. The program was opened with a concert by the McKinney Jaycee band under the direction of Prof. Ralph E. Frazier.

A poppy sale was conducted by members of the McKinney Girl Scout Troop during the morning in the interest of disabled war veterans. McKinneyites responded wonderfully to this sale, everyone buying and wearing one of the poppies.

The day's splendid program was closed at 6:30 p. m. at the W. O. W. Hall when a large number of ex-service men and their families gathered around the festal board for a wonderful barbecue supper and some fine addresses with Hon. John D. Reese as toastmaster. There was plenty to eat and everyone enjoyed the occasion wonderfully well. Speeches were made by Turn Franklin, Paul K. Wilson, Chas. Akin, Isaac, Crouch, Hi Wilmeth, W. L. Brown, County Attorney W. Clarence Dowdy, Dr. P. D. Robason, Dr. Bryce Miller, Rev. F. Lamar McGown, H. H. Standley, Oran L. Hope, Frank Wolford, Halsell S. Davis, W. C. Dysart, Post Commander Phil Wolford, Hon. John D. Reese, toastmaster, and others.

And, thus McKinney mixed the fun and frivolity of a holiday with the sadness and tribute that is due those who died for their country in the Great War—on the fifteenth anniversary of the ending of that holocaust.

County Judge J. Frank Harrington, accompanied by Earl Love, made a business trip to Terrell Wednesday.

J. J. McLain of the Kelley schoolhouse community and Coyet Burch, who lives between Anna and the Kelley schoolhouse, northwest of Anna, are in McKinney today visiting the bedside of their old friend, Uncle Johnnie How[illegible] who is seriously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wesley [illegible]

NORTH TEXAS PECAN GROWERS MEET NOV. 17

The North Texas Pecan Grower's Association was organized for educational service. Its president is W. T. Everts of Denton and secretary-treasurer C. C. Morris of Corsicana, formerly county agent of Grayson county and later of Denton county for several years. Several members of the Association are numbered among the pecan growers of Collin county.

AGENT WILL SOON GIVE SERIES OF DEMONSTRATIONS

ON PLANTING OF SHRUBBERY, EVERGREENS AND TREES

Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent, will give a number of demonstrations in the planting of screens—that is, shrubbery, evergreens and threes—during the remainder of November. She has written club members in the communities where these demonstrations will be held, urging that plenty of native plants be dug up ready for the demonstration. She states that she can use such plants as red bud, native cedars, sumac, dog wood, and wild plum. Also crepe myrtle, privet, lilacs, salt cedars and other such plants. She says where the privet plant can not be secured, that cuttings may be used. She also urges the clubs to have a man handy with plow and team, as this makes the planting easier and quicker.

Miss Dunlap has arranged the following sceduile for these meetings:

November 16—Franklin, forenoon; Bloomdale, afternoon.

November 17—Bethany, forenoon; Wetsel, afternoon.

November 20—Lavon, afternoon.

November 21—Cottage Hill, forenoon; Lone Elm, afternoon.

November 22—Lucas, forenoon; Lebanon, afternoon.

November 23—Anna, afternoon.

November 24—Verona, afternoon.

November 27—Mesquite, afternoon.

November 28—Clearlake, afternoon.

November 29—Celina, afternoon.

Jim Lewis Opens Up Nursery Here

Attention of our readers is called to the classified advertisement of Jim Lewis, announcing the opening up of the McKinney Nursery company, just north of the post office. Mr. Lewis is prepared to sell all kinds of nursery stock, and is ready to receive customers interested in his line of work.

Prof. F. M. Smith, principal of the Brushy school, was a business visitor in McKinney Saturday. While here he called by this office and told these editors about the progress his school is making, especially the girls' basketball team. The club has already played two games, winning from Merit, both times. At Merit, they won, 18-15, while at Brushy they won by a score of 26-17. Their captain is Miss Fae Davis, one of the famous Davis twin sisters. Her sister, Mae, also plays on the same team. Both are forwards. Miss Alfred Parks is coaching the girls, assisted by Prof. Smith.

Truett Dunn of Dallas spent the last week-end with his brother, Carl Dunn, and family, of Allen.

FUNERAL SUNDAY FATHER OF PROF. W. S. SMITH

SERVICES IN ANNA BAPTIST CHURCH; BURIAL AT OLD HIGHLAND

Funeral services for the late J. A. Smith, 84, were held in the Baptist church, at Anna, at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, November 12. The pastor, Rev. M. M. Barnett, was in charge, assisted by Dr. G. O. Key of McKinney and Rev. A. L. Leake of Plano. Dr. Key made the principal talk, which was a feeling tribute from an old friend and former pastor to a devout, Christian character. A male quartet, consisting of Tom Mitchell of McKinney, Elmer and Bob Parris of Anna and Fred Cunningham of Sherman assisted the large choir in the music. Interment folowed in the Old Highland cemetery under the direction of the Issac Crouch funeral home of McKinney.

Active pallbearers were H. Grady Giles, L. H. Goforth, J. L. Rattan, Prof. W. L. Roper, J. D. Mote and J. T. Shaw.

One of the longest motor vehicle corteges that we ever witnessed in the county followed the remains from the church to the cemetery, which is located about half way between Anna and Melissa. Many beautiful floral offerings banked the chancel rail and pulpit of the church and covered the grave. A beautiful gesture of genuine sympathy was made by the Men's big Sunday school class of the First Baptist church, McKinney, of which Prof. W. S. Smith, son of the deceased, is teacher. Perhaps between 50 and 100 members of the class attended in a body.

Death came to J. A. Smith at his late home at Anna at 1:45 o'clock Saturday morning after several months of feeble health. The deceased had lived at Anna for many years where he was esteemed by every acquaintance for his rugged, honest Christian character, his industry and good citizenship.

He reared a fine family of children, among them being Prof. W. S. Smith of McKinney, former County Public School superintendent, religious and civic leader. Another one of his sons, Dr. Paul Smith of Anna, prematurely passed away a few years ago.

The deceased is survived by his wife and the following children: S. R. Smith of Collinsville, Texas; Mrs. A. L. Morgan, who lives in the Old Highland community; Miss Mary Smith and Mrs. W. G. Strother, both of Anna; S. J. Smith of Anna and Prof. W. S. Smith of McKinney. He is also survived by ten grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

He was a native of Russell county, Kentucky, but had resided in this county during the last forty-two years of his lifetime.

ANNUAL FAIR AND FOOD SHOW COMES TO CLOSE

The nineteenth annual pure food show, sponsored by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church, came to a successful close here Saturday night, after showing four days and nights. The event was held in the spacious municipal coliseum and annex, and was even more colorful than in former years. A good attendance was on hand each afternoon and night, features of the event being the general drawing each night, at which the exhibitors gave away valuable prizes and the grand drawing Saturday night.

On Thursday and Friday nights, special programs were given in the annex, which was arranged with seats for the comfort of the visitors. Also each afternoon the local T. P. & L. company sponsored a cooking school which was well attended.

The ladies sponsoring the show are highly pleased with the large attendance and splendid cooperation they received from those having exhibits and others helping to make the show a success.

G. W. Ross is at McKinney this week in the interest of the Citizens Mutual Life Insurance Company of Waxahachie of which Tom L. Bailey is district agent with headquarters in McKinney. Mr. Ross is assisting Mr. Bailey in looking after the interests of their substantial life insurance association and the interests of its many patrons and prospective patrons throughout Collin county. The Citizens Mutual Life Insurance Company frequently uses the advertising columns of this paper to set forth the many advantages of its contracts and is enjoying a growing business in this part of the state.

We welcome to the Weekly Democrat-Gazette subscription list the name of Herman Pistole, Route 4, McKinney, for the paper for the ensuing twelve months. Mr. Pistole lives in the Rhea community.

PARKER PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH IS AMONG OLDEST IN ENTIRE COUNTY

SOME INTERESTING HISTORY GIVEN IN ADDRESS BY EX-DISTRICT CLERK J. H. SNEED AT HOME COMING SUNDAY, NOV. 5—DR. E. O. WHITWELL PREACHED MORNING SERMON.

Home coming was observed by the Parker Presbyterian church, U. S. A., at that place, twelve miles south of McKinney, on Sunday, November 5. It was an occasion of more than passing interest. John B. Gaines is pastor. Dr. E. O. Whitwell, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, McKinney, was the speaker at the 11:00 o'clock service, delivering an able sermon. Dinner was spread in the basement of this aggressive community church to which all were invited to partake. This church is one of the few community church centers in this section of the south which the general denomination helps maintain.

An Old Church.

At 2:00 o'clock, the large attendance re-assembled in the church auditorium to listen to a program of reading and singing and a historic address by J. H. Sneed of McKinney, former district clerk of Collin county and also a former member of the State Legislature from this county. Mr. Sneed stated that he remembered to have seen his father, R. S. Sneed, join there, a half century ago or longer. Others attending from McKinney besides J. H. Sneed were his wife and his daughter, Miss Mary Ruth Sneed and his sister, Mrs. F. A. Kluttz, and the latter's daughter, Miss Nola Beas Kluttz, and also Dr. E. O. Whitwell and wife. In his address, J. H. Sneed declared that the place of the organization of the church was not definitely known at this time, but is supposed to have been near Murphy. An old session book has this passage in it, indicating its organization as early as August 2, 1846:

"We, the inhabitants of Collin county, Texas, whose names are herein annexed, feeling a willingness to support the Gospel so far as we are able, also to have it preached among us and the ordinances of the church administered, do agree to associate ourselves together into a society known by the name of Corinth Society and subject ourselves to the government exercised by the C. P. church in the United States and, being in the bounds of Red River Presbytery, agree to look to her for such supplies of the means of Grace as she can from time to time afford us. This August 2nd, A. D., 1846."

(Transcribed from the Old Session Book.)

Mr. Sneed said that the first minutes obtainable are dated June 8, 1873. The officers present at the meeting were Rev. W. P. Cloyd of McKinney, moderator; C. A. McMillian, J. M. Dunlap, W. C. Parker, R. S. Sneed and E. D. Dishman. The name of the Presbytery was changed to White Rock Presbytery on September 14, 1873. There were some children baptized the same year. E. B. Dishman was clerk of the session at that time. R. S. Sneed was made clerk of the session, April 4, 1876.

The meeting place of the session was changed from Hebron Academy to Pigue Springs, September 5, 1874.

The pastors of the church, as nearly as the speaker had been able to locate and determine them, were as follows, beginning in 1874:

Rev. S. M. Wilkins, Rev. Mr. Maline, Rev. Mr. Quaite, Rev. W. P. Cloyd, Rev. J. R. Blewett, Rev. B. F. Spencer, Rev. D. W. Broughton, D. D., Rev. Mr. Cooley, (moderator), Rev. W. H. Okelley, Rev. John Collier, Rev. G. M. Hall, Rev. B. L. Hunter, Rev. C. N. Jarrell, Rev. J. L. A. Prather, Rev. J. M. Brooks (pastor, 1887), Rev. J. H. Dickerson, Rev. Mr. McGee, Rev. C. L. Dickey, Rev. Glenn L. Sneed, Rev. G. A. Crane, Rev. J. B. Turner, Rev. S. E. Kennon, Rev. T. A. Davis, Rev. Lockett Adair, Rev. L. E. Lawler, Rev. Mr. Ballew, Rev. Mr. Shell, Rev. Sterling Richardson, Rev. P. Ford, Rev. Mr. McGaughey, Rev. P. M. Ford, Rev. D. Cox, Rev. Mr. Truman, Rev. John B. Gaines.

Mr. Sneed finds that minutes from 1911 to 1924 are missing in the record book. This was during the pastorate of Rev. Sterling Richardson.

Ruling elders were: C. A. McMillan, W. C. Parker, Joe Wilkins, J. M. Dunlap, R. S. Sneed, E. B. Dishman, George Robbins, Chas. Wallace, Tom Wood, C. N. Shelton, J. O. Newsome, T. J. Sneed, Hosea Woods, T. E. Hogge, W. D. Robbins, Bob Masters, Olney Dillahay, John Gray, Bill Stinson, Gano Wilson and DeWitt Hogge.

Some of the more noted evangelists to hold meetings at the church that could be remembered by Mr. Sneed were: Rev. Mr. Blewett, Rev. Mr. Malloy, Dr. E. O. Whitwell, Rev. T. E. England, Rev. Lockett Adair, and Rev. Will Erwin.

Among the Sunday school superintendents that Mr. Sneed could recall to have been Tom Woods, J. Sneed, Hosea Woods, DeWitt Hogge, Floyd Wood. Of course, there were a number of others that Mr. Sneed could not obtain the names of.

Outstanding families that have had to do with this church and what it has done not yet heretofore mentioned by Mr. Sneed have been Amos Huguley and family, Andy McMillan, John Rosseter, Arthur Taylor, W. M. (Bill) Wilson, Jeff Robbins, Henry McCreary, T. A. Rogers, whose wife was a second cousin of General Robert E. Lee; Mrs. N. C. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Herring, Tom Johnson, and Bill Eden.

Neighbors of the Presbyterian families of other faiths that often worship with them in this pioneer Collin County Cumberland Presbyterian church organization were Messrs. Jeff and Mike Haley, Mr. and Mrs. Ward, Tom Knight, Mrs. Cheatham, Lee Myrick, Mrs. Ethel Myrick Stinson, (organist); C. C. Gregory, who donated the present site of two acres to the church; Hugh Chaddick, Mrs. Jim Strain, Jake Lewis, Tom Lewis, Ed Killian, Mrs. Starnes and Mrs. Stinson.

Some of the old-times refered to by Mr. Sneed were Isaac Herron and his son, D. Herron; Dr. Tarpley, Dr. Butler, Mr. Turner, Mr. Gates, George Vinson, Joe Wilkins, a song leader.

Mr. Sneed said the church, in looking to the future, should exercise faith. The present day advantages are many over the opportunities of other days. By a united effort to uphold the church in its glories we shall win new victories for the Kingdom. Going it alone, the preachers can't accomplish the task; the laity can't, the politician can't, the school can't, lodges can't, none of them singly can put over what is possible and should be done by this church for its community. But, by all joining hands in a united, cooperative way, we can and will lead our land out of a depression that has sorely tried and shocked the world.

Mr. Sneed's address was replete with information of a historic nature of this, perhaps, the oldest Presbyterian church organization in this county. It is regrettable that its complete records have not been preserved.

Aron Duncan Has Photo of Ballew Jury

Aaron Bryant Duncan, Route 1, Allen, came by our office Tuesday to show us a photograph of the twelve jurymen who sat in the case of Stephen M. Ballew, who was tried, convicted and hanged here for the murder of Golden. The picture as made in 1872 and was the property of Mr. Duncan's father, the late J. P. Duncan, who was one of the twelve. Aaron Bryant Duncan's grandfather, Aaron Bryant, was another one of the twelve. Another one was Grafton Williams, a Collin county pioneer. These were the only three in the picture that Mr. Duncan knows the faces of. He greatly prizes the photo which his mother, now deceased, gave him.

A. D. HOPE & SONS PLEASED WITH RESULTS OF SALE

A. D. Hope & Sons are staging their first sale and it is quite a success. Every day looks like Saturday in this store. The newspapers of this city and county have carried their low prices far and wide and the people have rallied to the invitation to visit this sale.

A. D. Hope, senior member of the firm, announced that their opening day was the biggest day's business in the store's nine years in business. Hundreds of customers were unable to get waited on at this sale, although fifteen efficient clerks were kept busy all day. The sale will run for the remainder of this week and an extra large sales force has been employed for the closing day's business which will be Saturday, November 18. This firm carries hardware, furniture, stoves and Crosley radios and since in business here has enjoyed a growing patronage. The sale will continue the rest of the week.

C. C. Dunn, who has been traveling in Tennessee since last January returned to Dallas last week. He travels for the Primrose Oil company. Last week-end he visited his sister, Mrs. Henry Wilcox, at Altoga.

Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Thomas had as their week-end guests Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Cook of Dallas.

Red Cross Drive Made Successfully Here Wednesday

At 9:00 o'clock last (Wednesday) morning, volunteer solicitors for the American Red Cross Roll Call, under the direction of City Roll Chairman W. P. Abernathy started the annual canvass for membership enrollment in McKinney. After final instructions by Chairman Abernathy, the solicitors started out to canvass every home and business house in the city and put McKinney "over the top" in this roll call campaign this year. At noon Mr. Abernathy reported favorable results from the campaign for membership.

Prof. W. S. Smith is county chairman of the American Red Cross. He states that Collin county, which has always been one of the quickest and heartiest responding counties in the state to the Roll Call, is again expected to do her part this year. Most Collinites vividly remember that twice during the past ten or twelve years, the Red Cross has been the first on the scene at two major disasters—at Melissa and Nevada, both of which were destroyed by tornadoes.

Collin has much to be thankful for to the Red Cross. It is to be hoped that everyone who is visited by these Red Cross workers today will contribute their part in this worthy cause. "When the workers come by your place of business or home, make it a point to cooperate in this great movement for the relief of those to whom disaster has come and will come in the next year," Chairman Abernathy of the local Red Cross Roll Call said Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Holland were given a surprise dining Sunday at their home on East Anthony street, the occasion being Mrs. Holland's birthday anniversary. At noon the sumptuous and bounteous meal was spread in the yard, picnic style, for the enjoyment of the following relatives and friends: Miss Willie Holland, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hartman, Miss Mary Lou and Jack Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chaney, Wilson Hall, Gladys Ross Nell, Mrs. Hattie Lindley, W. A. Lindley, and Misses Gertrude and Ruth Lindley, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Holland and children, LaVonia and Velma; J. C. Cogburn, Nannie Hall, Misses Billie and Virgie Hall, Jessie Ray Ball, Rachel Wheatley, Lorene Nunn, Weldon Allen, Lynn Boorman, Mrs. Scott Hall.

Mrs. Sallie Cole of Pilot Point is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Pete Younger and Mrs. A. S. Wreatley, here. Mrs. Cole was formerly Miss Sallie Hunn, daughter of the late Capt. [illegible] Hunn, a McKinney pioneer, [illegible] first came to [illegible]

McKINNEY 25 Years Ago

From The Files of The Daily Courier-Gazette

(November 12, 1908.)

Dr. J. C. Coffey writes the Daily Courier-Gazette to change his address from Goree to Vera, Texas.

Harry White and wife came in last evening from Club Lake with a bunch of forty-eight ducks which he killed during a part of the past two days.

Eld. R. C. Horn yesterday shipped a coop of his fine Rhode Island Red chickens to T. Ben Warden at Dallas. It contained a dozen hens and one cock.

Cliff Emerson yesterday bought the interest of Joe W. Barnes in the big retail grocery store of Barnes & Gerrish, but the change will not be effective until January 1, 1909.

The annual flower show under the auspices of the McKinney Mother's club will be held in the dining room of the Foote House next Monday and Tuesday, November 16 and 17.

The following Board of Stewards were nominated by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Gober, at the Fourth Quarterly Conuference last night at the First Methodist church and elected for the ensuing year: J. "Arkansan Asks for Rattlesnake Steaks"—headline. Tough boy, hey? Wonder if he ever ate boarding house hash?

In speaking of his cars, Mr. Ford always refers to the large one as the "V-8." How would you refer to the small one, the "I. O. U.-4?"

Farmers In Texas last year produced 115 varieties of crops. The Lone Star State outranks any other of the Union in versatility and productivity of its soil.

Winter seems to be on the way again. We hope it will not be a hard one. Although it would help business, yet it would be terribly hard on a large number of the less fortunate.

If you have some surplus item that you don't need and you would like to get rid of, why not try the classified columns of this paper? Little classified ads cost little, but usually obtain speedy results. Test it if you havn't already tried it out.

Secretary Wallace of the United States Department of Agriculture believes the corn processing tax of 28 cents per bushel may be too high. Millers assert the tax is so high it would backfire with much lower prices, increased stocks and poorer quality products. There must be a slip-up somewhere among the brain trust.

Collin County is gathering another bumper cotton crop in spite of the plow-up acreage sold to the Government. The price received by the grower is far better than a year ago and the money released in the county is a big aid to business in every town and hamlet. Cotton is still King despite Uncle Sam's attempt to dethrone the longtime ruler of the agri-

A live, wideawake, modern store can't afford to mark time—to wait for customers just to happen along. Alert merchants use advertising space in their local town and county newspapers that go into the homes of their trade territory with the merchant's personal invitation to prospective customers. People like to go where they are invited. Customers like to go to stores that tell what they have to sell.

McKinney like most cities, has some reckless automobile and truck drivers, who frequently endanger the lives of pedestrians and even other drivers for whom this class of dangerous drivers has no respect. These look upon traffic regulations as a joke. They ignore stop signs. We are in favor of popping the law to them without leniency. "Corner cutters" and "speed demons" need to be curbed. Every auto driver should be a good citizen and obey the law—especially traffic laws.

At the recent State fair at Dallas, two hundred and forty 4-H club boys, drawn from every part of Texas on a three days trip to the fair, opened their new quarters on October 5. The building is fire-proof and much more conveniently located than the old one. The State fair and Dallas business men royally entertained these farm boys. Some of these boys were given special honors for extreme high crop production. They were Elmer Smith of Trinity county who made $193.22 profit on one acre of tomatoes, this year; Edgar Wells, Fayette county, 128 bushels of corn on one acre; and Ben Causoy, El Paso county, who made an average of three bales of cotton per acre on his five-acre crop this year. These farm boys are making a great start on future success and usefulness—real dirt farmers.

A GOOD GIRL'S STORY.

The Katy Railroad is advertising in a new key, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in a recent issue. It is telling about its moral behavior during the depression. Ordinarily, that would be a dangerous kind of talk to make. The fellow who preaches about his own virtues wears a farmiliar tag. Always a bore, almost always a hypocrite. The Katy is absolved on both counts. She proudly tells:

She has borrowed no money from the Government.

She has paid her taxes.

She has not merged herself away, nor has she put her pocketbook in the dubious keeping of a holding company. In the words of Henley, she can assert: "I am the captain of my soul."

She does say that, though in another way. "Freedom from outside influence," is her phrase. So the Katy stands when most of the other railroads have been defaulting in taxes, and going to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for loans, and shedding copious tears, while the bankers who got rich by encouraging the railroads to speculate (there was always a handsome rakeoff for the bankers in peddling railroad securities) have been harsh, unfeeling creditors demanding their pound of flesh.

There is a good deal more than the solicitation for business in the Katy ads. There is a sound economic philosophy. There is also an indictment of the practices and policies which have reduced so many railroads to jingling a tincup. The Katy Railroad is in comparatively comfortable circumstances, because she stuck to the business of railroading, avoiding the get-rich-quick germ, kept out of the clutches of the bankers, and to earn her living on her tracks, not at the gaming tables of the so-called market. A good girl, the Katy.

FARM AUCTION SALE NEAR LUCAS NOV. 23

James T. Lemmond, living on the Dunn farm, in about two miles of Lucas and getting his mail on Rt. 1, Wylie, called Saturday to leave a classified advertisement announcing a farm auction sale at 1:30 o'clock Thrsday afternoon, November 23, on his place. The following livestock and farm tools and machinery will be sold to the highest bidder: 2 work mules, 2 milk cows, 2 wagons, 2 riding cultivators, a self-binder, a mowing machine, section harrow, plows, and other tools and implements. Mr. Lemmond also had us to print him five hundred circulars advertising his auction sale.

ATTEND FUNERAL OF BROTHER NEAR BELTON, TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. James and daughter, Dorothy Louise, were called to Belton to attend funeral services near that place Friday of Mrs. James's brother, Letcher Forrest, 42, who was fatally injured in an accident last Thursday. Mr. James has returned to his home here, while his wife and daughter remained in the Letcher home for a few days. Mr. James is associated with his brother, George James, in the latter's implement and hardware business in this city.

Letcher Forrest was en route to Belton from his home, three miles from that place, when the accident above referred to, occurred. After taking his gaze off the road to wave to a friend, as he passed by, he perceived a calf in the road, ahead of him, and in attempting to miss striking the animal, lost control of the car, which overturned into the ditch. Death was instantaneous. The deceased is survived by his wife and two children.

COUNTY-WIDE B. Y. P. U. RALLY HERE SUNDAY

A county-wide B. Y. P. U. rally will be held at the First Baptist church here Sunday afternoon, November 19 at 2:30 o'clock conducted by Miss Grace Conn of Dallas. Miss Fletcher Anderson, county president, will preside. The rally is in preparation for the county B. T. S. revival, to be conducted next week in churches over the county. Miss Conn will assist with the training course in the First Baptist cubrch.

On Tuesday afternoon, November 21, at 2:30 o'clock, a county-wide meeting will be held in Frisco at which time T. C. Gardner will be leader, while Thursday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. G. B. Bradsha will be leader at a rally at the Allen church. On the following Sunday, November 26, the graduation exercises and presenting of diplomas will be held at the First church here with Miss Conn again in charge. All Baptist young people of the county are urged to enlist in the training courses the coming week.

M'KINNEY 25 Years Ago

FROM THE FILES OF THE DAILY COURIER-GAZETTE

(November 11, 1908.)

L. Cameron, a highly esteemed old Princeton citizen, and wife are McKinney visitors today.

Mrs. George B. Hughes spent last night in Melissa visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Pate have returned to Fort Worth after a visit to J. M. Andrews and wife in this city.

The North Side Barber shop, J. P. Brunson, proprietor, is using our advertising columns to invite a portion of your barber's trade, including hot and cold baths and electric massages.

The Beehive Restaurant, C. C. Savell, proprietor, located at 7 East Virginia street, is using our advertising columns to solicit business. This is a fine place for meals and short orders, also neat and clean beds.

Mrs. J. N. Davis, aged 51 years, 2 months and 25 days, died at the family residence on South Parker street yesterday afternoon. Her maiden name was Mattie Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Payton A. Hamilton. She was born, August 15, 1857, on the old family homestead, two and a half miles south of McKinney. She was married, December 5, 1876, to John Davis. She is survived by one son, Dowden Davis, and two daughters, Misses Maude and Corrie. Two brothers, R. E. and W. H. (Herbert) Hamilton, also survive. Her funeral was held at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church conducted by her pastor, Rev. S. L. Rieves, assisted by Rev. W. P. Cloyd, Cumberland Presbyterian.

Will Perform Here

The above depicts one of the scenes of the famous Willander's Animal Circus coming to McKinney Thursday, Friday and Saturday under the auspices of the local American Legion Post No. 96.

The circus will show across the street from the coliseum, corner East Davis and South Chestnut streets.

IMPORTANCE OF RED CROSS IN LIFE OF NATION

Today, "Armistice" marks the opening day of the Red Cross Roll call which is being made over the nation, and which comes to a close "Thanksgiving," County Chairman W. S. Smith and W. P. Abernathy, city chairman, of the annual roll call, have their plans well outlined for the drive in this city and county.

Prof. Smith is also chairman of the County Red Cross Chapter, and has appointed chairmen in all towns and communities of the county to conduct the drives.

The drive in McKinney will be made next Wednesday and Chairman Abernathy is anxious for every citizen to join and thus aid one of our most worthy causes.

* * *

In an announcement today of plans being ofrmulated for the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, W. P. Abernathy, McKinney Red Cross Roll Call Chairman, traced the growth of an organization whose origin and development hold as dramatic and interesting story as was ever told. Springing from a desire to render voluntary service to humanity, this agency now is looked upon as an essential part of the life of the nation.

Carrying on as a pioneer in its field, the Red Cross accepts its assignments and adjusts its work to met changing conditions, always looking beyond any abnormal swing in the nation's economic pendulum.

* * *

Born on Battlefield.

Reviewing milestones in the organization's history, the chapter chairman explained that the Red Cross was born on the battlefield. His account of its founding follows:

"Moved by the horrors of the Battle of Solferino in 1859, Henry Dunant, a young Swiss idealist, and a small band of villagers he had summoned, braved the danger of gunfire in a determined effort to give voluntary succor to victims of the ferocious encounter," the Roll Call chairman declared in describing the origin of the Red Cross.

"Prior to its inception in this country, in the work of Florence Nightingale during the Crimean war was born the principles of modern nursing. Thousands of lives were saved on the battlefields when she and her devoted followers nursed many back to recovery and brought order and sanitary practices out of chaos and gross neglect.

"Accomplishments of the Red Cross during and since the World War are well-known. Its peacetime program, reaching into practically every county in the United States, has kept alive the organization's voluntary spirit toward mankind."

When this nation last year found itself still in the grip of economic disorder, it will be recalled that it was to the Red Cross that Congress turned to distribute surplus commodities which in a twelve-month period benefited 25,000,000 individuals, or approximately a fifth of the country's entire population.

All its activities, which include its health services, disaster work, First Aid and Life Saving, War Service, and the Junior Red Cross, have become indispensable in the thousands of communities this agency serves.

In the last three years, tasks of this organization have been extremely heavy. While it is a semi-governmental agency, the Red Cross is entirely dependent upon enrollment of memberships. This year's Roll Call will be held between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving in its 3,700 local chapters. Community leaders heading up the membership campagn, will invite every adult citizen to become a part of this humanitarian society during the Roll Call period.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Shrader and two children of Dallas spent Sunday with relatives in McKinney. Mrs. Shrader was, before her marriage, Miss Tucker, daughter of Mrs. Press Tucker.

Miss Lila Mae Scott Bride of Raymond Snider

Raymond Snider, son of Dick Snider, and Miss Lila Mae Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Frank Scott, both of this city, were happily united in marriage Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Rev. A. H. Snider, the latter officiating. The young couple were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Apple. They will make their future home with the bride's parents on North Kentucky street, where she assists her mother in the operation of the Delightful Inn.

Both the bride and groom are well-known in this city and their many friends wish for them a long and happy wedded life together.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish through the public press to thank our good neighbors and friends everywhere for every kindly act showed us and our loved one during his recent illness and after his passing. Your every kindness and token of sympathy, both in word and flowers, have done much to assuage our sorrow. We shall never forget you, nor cease to pray for similar comfort for you when grief or sorrow come your way.

Very sincerely,
MRS. GEORGE H. GERRISH AND CHILDREN.

Miss Jennie Marie Wilson, student at C. I. A., spent the week-end at home.

HOPE'S STORE REPORTS BEST DAY IN HISTORY

Saturday was the best day in the nine year history of their big store in McKinney, so says A. D. Hope, senior member of the A. D. Hope & Sons big hardware and furniture establishment here. It was the opening day of their eight-day "Profit Sharing" sale as being extensively advertised in these papers. This is a store-wide sale as announced in their newspaper publicity that they are carrying on at attractive prices for their entire stock. The big store required fifteen clerks to wait on the hundreds of customers that visited it Saturday and Saturday night until closing time. During the day, the store is featuring private sales and at 7:00 o'clock each evening, the store is featured by an auction sale in the furniture department. As stated this store-wide sale will continue through the remainder of the week.

BROTHER OF MRS. W. A. JACKSON DIES AT VICTORIA

Mrs. W. A. Jackson was called to Victoria, Texas, by the death there Sunday afternoon at 6:30 o'clock of her brother, N. A. (Arthur) Sproles. Funeral services will be held for the deceased Tuesday afternoon. N. A. Sproles formerly lived in McKinney, where he had many friends and acquaintances residing.

Another brother of Mrs. Jackson, Sherrod Sproles, who made his home with her in this city, passed away only a few weeks ago.

M'KINNEY SHOULD SUPPORT A. R. C. 100 PER CENT

As Mayor of the city of McKinney, and, in cooperation with officials and citizens throughout the nation, I hereby urge the people of McKinney to respond as liberally and promptly as possible to the annual American Red Cross Roll Call that officially began throughout the nation on Armistice Day, November 11, and will continue until Thanksgiving Day, November 30.

The Red Cross is the accepted medium of relief throughout the nation and world. Our own little city and our home county have both been generously served by the Red Cross in recent years and especoally in a material way during the present year.

Therefore, as mayor of the city, I commend to every man, woman and child as worthy of your membership and friendly support in both sympathy and a small cash membership fee required to join it.

I trust our splendid little city will show its appreciation for favors shown our sick, needy and unemployed, and its sympathy for the dependent throughout the nation and world, by numerously taking membership in the most worthy organization for the ensuing year.

Signed,
JOE E. LARGENT,
Mayor of McKinney.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Babb, who live on Route 2, between Anna and Westminster, were business visitors in McKinney Monday. We received a welcome call from them.

Here's Quickest, Simplest Way to Stop a Cold

1. Take 2 Bayer Aspirin Tablets. 2. Drink full glass of water. Repeat treatment in 2 hours. 3. If throat is sore, crush and dissolve 3 Bayer Aspirin Tablets in a half glass of water and gargle according to directions in box.

Almost Instant Relief in this Way

It is recognized as the QUICKEST, safest, surest way to treat a cold. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine BAYER Aspirin Tablets dissolve so completely they leave no irritating particles. Get a box or 12 tablets or a bottle of 24 or 100 at any drug store.

DOES NOT HARM THE HEART

Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries by taking this advice!

Can constipation actually be overcome? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets, or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can correct this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:

This is the way many men and women have made their bowels as regular as clockwork in a very short time.

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely used for both adults and children) is syrup pepsin. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a prescription, and is perfectly safe. Its laxative action is based on senna—a natural laxative. The bowels will not become dependent on this form of help, as in the case of mineral drugs.

Hospitals and doctors have always used liquid laxatives. The dose can be measured, and the action controlled. Pills and tablets containing drugs of violent action are hard on the bowels.

If there are children in your household, don't give them any fad form of laxative, but use a healthful, helpful preparation like syrup pepsin. Its very taste will tell you it is wholesome, and agreeable to the stomach. Delightful taste, and delightful action; there is no discomfort at the time, or after. Ask your druggist for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all ready to take.

YOUR HOME TOWN

OUR STATE CAPITOL

Representative Joe W. McCullough provides us with an enteresting description of the state capitol at Austin, which should prove interesting to everyone, whether or not they have have ever visited that historic building. He says:

"The Capitol is shaped like a Greek cross, fronting south, with projecting center and flanks, having a rotunda and dome at the intersection of the main corridors. The carnerstone of this immense structure was laid March 2, 1885, and the completed building dedicated May 16, 1888. It was built at a cost of 3,000,000 acres of land of the state taken from the public domain. This land today is worth about $60,000,000.

The dimensions are as follows: Length, 566 feet 6 inches, inclusive of porticos; width, 228 feet 10 inches at widest point; height, 311 feet from grade line to top of statue on dome—7 feet taller than dome of National Capitol.

The building contains 258 rooms, 900 windows and 500 doors. The exterior walls are built of Texas red granite from the inexhaustible quarries of Burnet county. Seventy-five miles of railroad lines were built to haul the materials of granite and stone. The wainscoting is made of oak, pine, cherry, cedar, walnut, ash and mahogany, the aggregate length of which is about seven miles. The building proper covers three acres of ground and has about 18 acres of floor space.

The work of construction was begun February 1, 1882, and is second only in size to the Capitol at Washington, and is the seventh largest building in the world. The grade line is 600 feet above the level of the sea.

On the right side of the broad pavement leading to the main entrance to the Capitol have been erected the Confederate and Alamo monuments, and on the left are the Firemen's and the Terry Rangers' monuments and the John B. Hood Brigade monument on the east side of the Capitol, where the Capitol greenhouses are also located. The Texas cowboy statue is located southwest of the Capitol building."

THE RED CROSS

According to W. P. Abernathy, city chairman of the Red Cross roll call, the American Red Cross, during the fiscal year ending last June 30, answered humanity's call in seventy-seven disasters, scattered in all parts of the United States. Floods, tornadoes, forest fires and earthquake, left their devastating effects in half the states of the nation and tens of thousands of stricken families were forced to turn to the Red Cross for succor. During the first six months of 1933 the National Organization experienced one of the busiest periods in its peacetime history. Last spring the combined forces of high water, wind and fire, climaxed by the Southern California quake of March 10, resulted in deaths of 426 persons, injured 9,000 others and wrecked or damaged 17,872 homes. In addition the relief agency extended assistance during the year to nearly a score of calamities in insular possessions and abroad. Distress from disasters, necessitating action of the Red Cross, has been felt on several occasions in the state of Texas during recent years and Collin county in no exception, Melissa and Nevada both being blown away by twisters, Melissa in 1921 and Nevada in 1926.

A. R. C. TO THE FRONT

During the last fiscal year ending June 30, 1933, there were eleven disasters affecting thirty-seven counties. Three of these disasters were floods and eight tornadoes. Altogether, fifty-five persons were killed, 238 injured, 25,257 persons affected, 385 homes destroyed, and 1,647 damaged. The National Organization and the chapters spent thousands of dollars in the relief operations following these disasters, particularly in the case of the Southwest Texas and Rio Grande flood and the East Texas-Louisiana tornado. Figures given on the latter disaster do not include the storm's effects outside of Texas.

LOOK TO THE RED CROSS

Standing in readiness to respond whenever and wherever calamity strikes, the Red Cross deals with disasters in a systematic manner, extending help to sufferers upon a basis of their individual needs. In its long disaster experience the agency has built up a network of disaster preparedness committees in thousands of the communities it serves. These local committees, generally composed of representative leaders, respond promptly when an emergency call comes from their own neighbors and augment the efforts of trained workers in those disaster requiring assistance from the National Organization. Recovery from economic strike will not end human suffering and property loss from calamities. Disasters will continue at the rate of nearly one hundred a year, and in the majority of cases it will be to the Red Cross that the victims will look for assistance. This service, as well as all other responsibilities of the Red Cross, is made possible by individual contributions solicited each year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, November 11 to 30.

Circus Will Open Thursday

BOX AND PIE SUPPER AT STIFF CHAPEL

A box and pie supper will be held at the Cliff Chapel school Friday night, November 17, at which time a nice program of music and readings will be given. Proceeds will be used for the school and Sunday school. Teachers of the Stiff Chapel school are Prof. Alma Farley, principal, and Miss Mary Monty. The Stiff Chapel school, which is located nine miles northeast of McKinney, is one of the oldest common schools in the county. A big crowd is expected Friday night.

W. H. Sandige, who lives on his farm in West Texas, has our thanks for renewal subscription on the Weekly Democrat-Gazette for another year in advance. Mr. Sandige and wife lived in McKinney for a number of years. He was greatly saddened to learn of the tragic death of the wife of his longtime friend, Dr. S. J. Dobbs, of Princeton. He gets his mail at Hale Center, Texas.

Members of the McKinney Volunteer Fire department are making plans for a Christmas banquet this year, Orlia J. Moss, John Moore and Marshall Padgitt being the committee in charge. Plans for this coming event were begun at the monthly meeting of the Fire department Monday night, held in the City hall, presided over by Chief J. S. McKinney.

YOUNG NIECE DIED SUNDAY IN OKLAHOMA

Mrs. B. Frank Skelton and Mrs. Sam Apple were called to Antlers, Oklahoma, Sunday by a phone message, announcing the death of their niece, Miss Lola, seventeen-year-old daughter of their brother, C. R. Beck, of that city. She died at 5:00 o'clock Sunday morning after being bedfast for a couple of weeks.

Mesdames Skelton and Apple were accompanied to Antlers by Mrs. Skelton's son, Max B. Skelton, and Mrs. Apple's daughter, Miss Mattie Alice, and also L. B. Burgess.

The deceased was a member of the Senior class of the Antlers High school. Her premature death caused great sorrow in the class, school and city. The deceased was also talented in art, and the family had planned to send her to California to study art after graduating from high school next spring.

Funeral services were held at Antlers at 10:00 o'clock Monday morning, November 13, with her fellow Senior classmates as pallbearers.

The deceased is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Beck, and six sisters. One sister preceded her to the grave several years ago. Three of these sisters are living in California and were unable to attend the funeral.

Mr. Beck, the father, is a former resident of Collin county and made his home near Celina for a number of years. This was the first meeting between him and his sister, Mrs. Skelton, for twenty-four years. Besides Mrs. Skelton and Mrs. Apple, Mr. Beck has two other sisters, Mrs. Mack W. Gibbs, of Pomona, California, and Mrs. C. G. Courcier, of Fresno, California, and two brothers, Radford Beck, of Phoenix, Arizona, and Will R. Beck of Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas. All are former residents of this county and their parents, now deceased, once resided in McKinney.

Rev. I. D. Wallace, of the Bishop schoolhouse community, is pastor of the Baptist churches at Weston and Prosper. He preaches at Weston morning and evening on the first and third Sundays of each month and at Prosper on the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. His churches presented him the trip and expenses to the state Baptist convention at Ft. Worth last week, over and above the regular salary that they pay him.

Francis Harrington, student in Trinity university, Waxahachie, and star on the Trinity football team, spent the week-end with his parents, Judge and Mrs. J. Frank Harrington, here.

THANKSGIVING UNION CHURCH SERVICE NOV. 30

At a monthly meeting of the local Ministers' Alliance, held Monday morning in the study of the First Presbyterian church, plans were made for the annual Thanksgiving union church service, to be held this year Thursday morning, Nov. 30, at 10 o'clock at the First Presbyterian church.

The speaker will be Rev. Minor Bounds, pastor of the First Methodist church. Rev. Bounds and family recently moved to McKinney, where he was sent as pastor of the First M. E. church, to succeed Dr. C. M. Simpson, who was sent as presiding elder of the Paris District.

Annual Thanksgiving union church services are always largely attended in McKinney, all congregations in the city uniting in the services. Local ministers alternate in bringing the message, while a rotation system brings the service to all churches of the city within the space of a few years' time.

Everyone in the city and community is cordially invited to this service.

Frisco Flower Show Proves Big Success

By Mrs. W. B. Staley, Cor.

The second annual flower show, sponsored by the Garden club, was held in Frisco Saturday, visitors being present from McKinney, Allen, Melissa and Garland.

There were seventy-five entries which included several varieties of the following flowers: Chrysanthemums, dahlias, cosmos, roses, snap dragons, zinnias, petunias, hardy asters, marigold, pot plants and ferns. The chrysanthemums were a surprise and delight to the many visitors and were the subject of much favorable comment, especially the large reflex and incurved varities. They were said by many to be the equal of any they had ever seen.

Mesdames Lee Hoover, A. M. Russell and Joe Largent of McKinney, acted as judges and awarded a number of ribbons as first, second and third prizes.

The Garden club, of which Mrs. F. P. Shrader is president, has some very enthusiastic members and is doing good work.

Mrs. Johnny Duke Collins and little son, of Eastland, spent the past week in this city with her mother, Mrs. Katie Long, and family.

MRS J. T. ISOM IS AGAIN HONORED WITH PRESIDENCY

The regular monthly meeting of the Collin County association of Home Demonstration clubs was well attended Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce.

A profitable business session was presided over by Mrs. J. T. Isom, the president, who was elected for another year. Other officers are Miss Gertrude Arnold, secretary and the following vice-presidents: Mrs. C. S. James of Lebanon; Mrs. J. Ed McGee of Winningkoff; Mrs. Will Moreland of Altoga and Mrs. J. T. Grisham of Verona.

During the afternoon the program committee read the program for the year, during which demonstrations will be made by the women in herbariums; use of American cheese in different dishes; honey, whole grains, remodeling clothing, making drapes, etc. Special programs will be arranged for Christmas, Thanksgiving and St. Patrick's Day.

The club will have a cheese show in the spring and Miss Helen Dunlap, county agent, stressed the fact that the weather is splendid now for such process and urged all ladies to begin practicing now in the making of cheese and to bring samples at the December meeting of the association.

Mrs. Isom was selected by the association to attend an agricultural meeting which will be held in Dallas, December 5 and 6. County Agent Jack McCullough will select a man to attend the meeting also. At this meeting the railroads are furnishing free transportation to Dallas from all counties sending representatives.

On the afternoon's program, County Treasurer Byron England was a guest, bringing a very interesting history of the Franklin club, which has had the best attendance with reports at the association meetings the past year. Mr. England also presented the prize to the club which was a copy of "Longan's Parlimentary Rules Made Easy."

Several of the ladies present volunteered to plant vegetables and grains for use in the Collin County booth at the State fair in Dallas next year.

Before the meeting closed, each club represented gave a report of the past year's work.

LITTLE M'KINNEY BOY SUFFERED PAINFUL BURNS

Spearman Dobbins, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Dobbins, who reside on West Davis street, this city, continues critically ill from painful burns received late Wednesday afternoon, while at play back of Hubbard's meat market. The young lad and his sister had built a small fire there and Chief J. S. McKinney, passing by, told the children the fire should be put out. The little boy immediately ran into the McKinney Welding shop and picked up a can of gasoline, thinking it a can of water, which he threw on the flames.

The flames spread, catching the little boy's clothes on fire. Elbert Lovell, hearing his screams, rushed to his rescue and rolled him over and over in a mud puddle, extinguishing the flames. He was given immediate medical attention. His injuries were of a critical nature and are causing the little fellow much pain and suffering. He was resting about the same at the home of his parents Monday.

Mrs. Titus Furr and two little children, Jimmie and Sara Jane, have returned to their home in Lubbock after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Edgar McKinney, and family. Mr. and Mrs. McKinney accompanied them home and will return today.

Jim Jenkins of McKinney, Route 5, was a local visitor Tuesday, coming here to transact business.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Eastham and Mrs. Zora Ellis visited in Dallas Monday.

Mrs. Will Moreland, our faithful correspondent at Altoga, was a business visitor in McKinney, calling by our office for a friendly visit. Mrs. Moreland was accompanied to McKinney by Mr. Moreland. She states their son, Dwight, has been ill for several days with measles, but is now improved.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ed McGee, of the Fitzhugh Mills community, attended the Pure Food show here Saturday night.

Miss Ruth Bounds, a student at the East Texas State Teachers college, at Commerce, has returned to her school duties there after a visit to her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Minor Bounds, in McKinney. She was accompanied here to spend one night with her parents by one of her college mates. Her father was recently sent to McKinney as pastor of the First Methodist church. Her brother, Rev. Minor Bounds Jr., a theological student, in Southern Methodist university, also came up to spend the week-end at home with their parents.

The friends of Walter Hedgcoxe will regret to learn of his serious illness. He is suffering from an infection on his face.

Mrs Rasco Reed is visiting sister, Mrs. Ed Howard, in Wichita Falls for a few days.

Mrs. J. A. Henderson spent week-end in Longview.

Rev. J. Ben Snider, one of McKinney's most popular "marrying ministers" was agreeably surprised on Monday of this week when he learned a young couple of Floyd (Hunt county), Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Howard, whom he had previously married on October 10, were so well pleased with the ceremony that they recommended that another young couple of that West Hunt county town, Ernest Feagin and Miss Anna Maude Morrow, be married by this popular McKinney minister. Mr. and Mrs. Howard accompanied the young couple to McKinney for the ceremony. Possibly, no man has embarked more young people on the martial sea in this county than has Rev. Snider, who is universally esteemed and loved by our entire citizenship.

DALLAS MASONS HONOR TEXAS GRAND MASTER IN HIS HOME LODGE

A party of McKinney Masons attended an official visitation occasion in the Plano Masonic lodge by the Keystone lodge of Dallas at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday evening.

The Plano lodge is the home lodge of Judge Wallace Hughston of McKinney, who was its first initiate, after it was reorganized in 1895 and of which he and his brother, Tom A. Hughston, and his aged father, Capt. T. F. Hughston, are all Past Masters.

Mr. Barron is the present Master of the Plano lodge and presided with Tom A. Hughston of Dallas and Editor Arthur A. Bagwill of Plano, acting Senior and Junior Wardens, respectively.

A very interesting program was given, honoring Judge Hughston, Grand Master of the Texas Grand Lodge whose administration now drawing to a close was highly praised by prominent Dallas Masons among whom were Dallas Smith, Worshipful Master of Keystone lodge, John L. DeGrazier, wholesale jeweler, Judge Bush of the Dallas County Court of Law and Henry Watson, Deputy Grand Master of the Dallas District. Mr. DeGrazier and Deputy Grand Master Watson surprised the Grand Master by the presentation of some new neck ties of his favorite (?) hue (flaming red), while J. Z. George, another eminent Dallas Mason and widely knon Texan, presented, in a few well chosen words, a scroll of appreciation from the membership of Keystone lodge, which numbers 400 members a gift to the Texas Grand Master.

Judge Hughston responded to calls with a brief speech of appreciation of the consideration that his brethren throughout the state have shown him and the enthusiastic manner that all are working with his administration for its success.

The Plano lodge extended a welcome to the meeting which was very largely attended by Dr. C. J. Hicks. Under the leadership of Dr. Hicks and R. B. Howey, the efficient secretary, delicious sandwiches and hot coffee were served as refreshments.

Among those taking part in the occasion were: J. H. C. English, now of Dallas, but formerly of Roseland; Clifford Goggans, Master of St. John's lodge, McKinney; W. H. Hamilton, County Tax Assessor Nick Hood Leonard Searcy, Bartow Chapman and Walter B. Wilson, all of McKinney; Raymond Wilson and others of Prosper, Ex-County Clerk Shirley G. Taylor of Farmersville; John Bratcher, Esq. George Tree, G. D. Founds and F. D. Matthews, all of Blue Ridge and delegations from Wylie, Josephine, Nevada, Celina, Lebanon and other lodges of the county.

MASTER HUGHSTON THOMAS RETURNS HOME AT WAELDER

Mrs. Wallace Hughston has gone to Waelder, Texas, to take her little four-year-old grandson, Hughston Thomas, back to his parents, Rev. and Mrs. Foy Thomas, who live there where the young husband and father is pastor of the Methodist church. Mrs. Hughston went down to Waelder a couple of weeks ago after Master Hughston Thomas, brought him up here to keep while his parents attended annual conference at San Antonio, at which Bishop Hay returned Rev. Mr. Thomas to his second year as pastor of the church at Waelder. The church at Waelder asked for Rev. Mr. Thomas's return and have already given him a big pounding of groceries and other useful things in the household. The church has an educational building and other good plant equipment. Mrs. Thomas was formerly a teacher in the McKinney Public schools and a leader in young people's church work of various kinds. She is of great assistance to her consecrated husband in his ministerial labors.

Old Mother Surprised On Her Birthday

On the occasion of her sixty-eighth birthday, Sunday, November 5, Mrs. A. H. Braswell, of near Altoga, was surprised by her children, other relatives, neighbors and friends with a big birthday dinner. They all came in with well-filled baskets and boxes and spread the tempting dinner on the family table. Those present to enjoy the occasion were the following children and other relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moore and three daughters, Mildred, Helen Ray and Noyce, of Cleburne, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Price and children, Vernon, Jr., Joy and Nona, of McKinney; Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ray of McKinney; Herman McTee of McKinney; Miss Sammie Hale of Altoga; Kenneth Butler of Blue Ridge; Winston Braswell, Aunt Dollie Price of Blue Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Graves and two children, Chas. Jr., and Otrelsa Lee of Altoga. Mrs. Braswell's children still at home are Gertrude, Jessie, Davis and Houston. Fred was her only child not present. He was kept away on account of illness. Mrs. Braswell is a beloved old widow lady, mother and friend. All wish her many happy returns of the day.

F. L. BRAZEAL DIES AT HOME NEAR M'KINNEY

Fitzhugh Lee Brazeal, 35, died suddenly late Thursday afternoon at his home about three miles north of McKinney. He had been complaining of ill health for the past month or so. He had gone out to chop some wood in his yard and when his little six-year-old son went out to look for him, life was extinct.

Funeral services for the deceased were held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the C. C. Harris Funeral home in this city, conducted by Rev. A. H. Snider, Christian minister of this city. Interment followed in the McLarry cemetery. The Rose sisters of the Forest Grove community were in charge of the song service at the funeral rites.

The deceased was a native of Collin county and had resided in this county all of his life.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brazeal, who survive. He is also survived by his wife and two little children, a son aged six and a baby daughter aged thirteen months and by four brothers and one sister.

COPEVILLE WOMAN, ONE OF THIRTEEN CHILDREN, DIES

The Copeville community was saddened by the passing of Mrs. Isa Bell Witherspoon, who died at her home there October 25.

Isa Bell Witherspoon was born April 1, 1870, in Allen county, Ky. She professed faith in 1893 in the General Baptist church at Mt. Union, Kentucky. She came to Texas in 1893, where she later united with the Southern Methodist church. She was a consecrated Christian all her life, being active as a Sunday school teacher at Copeville for six years, and active in all religious circles of the community.

She was a daughter of John and Ellen Blankenship, being one of thirteen children—one boy and twelve girls. She was united in marriage to James E. Witherspoon December 23, 1890, two children being born to this union—a son, Rora, and a daughter, Mrs. Lena Gooch, of Copeville. The deceased was making her home with her daughter at the time of her passing.

She was 62 years old at the time of her death and had been in ill health for sometime, but bore her suffering and pain in silence. She was beloved by everyone in the community and her passing is a cause of great sorrow among her friends and loved ones. Before her passing she had selected her pall bearers and made suggestions for her funeral services, when she should pass on.

The pall bearers were: Lewis Montgomery, Leonard Montgomery, Dewey Montgomery, Leon Ripley, George Ashmore, John Rexroat.

The flower girls were: Doris Evelyn McIvery, Johnnie Nell Thompson, Flora Nell Ripley, Katy Love Ripley, Aletha Rexroat, Mary Evelyn Hall, Carrie Mae Oliver, Lorene Oliver, Lometta Montgomery, Jerry Montgomery and Nannie V. Wingo.

Mr. and Mrs. Tolbert of Farmersville, funeral directors, were in charge of the arrangements.

Most of Farm Loans Have Been Repaid

W. A. Culberson of Greenville, field supervisor, Crop Production Loan of the Farm Credit Administration, administered in the Southwest by Owen W. Sherrill of Dallas, was in McKinney Thursday, looking after his duties and to confer with county agent, Jack McCullough, and others.

There were 157 loans in Collin county made in the spring of 1933, amounting to $13,850. Mr. Culberson says that ninety-five per cent of these loans have already been repaid to the government which is a most excellent showing, and it now appears that these Collin county borrowers will soon repay their loans 100 per cent.

The showing this year of ninety-five per cent at the present time is much better than the final collections of 1932 which closed around ninety-three per cent. Mr. Culberson has several other counties besides Collin assigned to him to look after. Probably more than eighty per cent of collections in his entire territory have already been repaid.

Mr. Culberson says that this form of Federal aid to actual dirt farmers, who could not get financial assistance to carry on from any other source, is abundantly justified by results. These needy farmers and families have been enabled to stay on the farm, have something to do for themselves and family in making crops to feed themselves and families, besides making enough extra to repay the government for its accommodation. If this aid had not been forthcoming, most of them would have taken their places in the ranks of the unemployed of the nation and in the breadlines to be fed and clothed by some form of Federal or local charity.

Southwestern district, composed of the states of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona under the direction of Owen W. Sherrill, Dallas, were fortunate in having such a competent man, so says Mr. Culberson to head the organization and direct it. Mr. Sherrill has had experience himself as county agent, farmer-stockman and in banking. He is a real business man. He has required the farmers who obtain loans to plant gardens and raise their family living at home as much as possible and to produce their own feed for their needed livestock. In this way, the needy farmers, many of them, have become able to carry on hereafter without help of the government. They have been taught a lesson that will stand them in good stead for all the future and some of them

FUNERAL RITES HELD THURSDAY FOR A. L. RAGSDALE

One of the largest attended funerals held in this city was that of the late A. L. Ragsdale, held at his late home, 504 South Chestnut street Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The impressive services were conducted by Dr. J. H. Cozad, pastor of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Minor Bounds, pastor of the First Methodist church, and Rev. Orbin Turner, Methodist minister and friend of the deceased. Interment was made in Pecan Grove cemetery with the Massie & Son funeral home in charge. The bier was covered with a profusion of beautiful flowers, attesting the love and esteem in which the deceased was held.

Active pallbearers were: B. F. Hearne, Frank Wolford, J. Woot Mallow, W. L. Holbert, Sam J. Massie and Duncan Holder.

It will be remembered that the deceased died suddenly at his home Tuesday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock. After returning from his work, he had gone under his home to raise the house and make some adjustments. When he failed to answer his wife's call, a neighbor boy was sent under the house to see about him, finding life extinct.

Albert L. Ragsdale was one of our city's best-known and highly esteemed citizens. Several years ago he was in the grocery business here, and at the time of his death was engaged by the Collin County Oil Mill company. He was 63 years, 7 months and 11 days old, at the time of his passing.

The deceased is survived by his heart-broken widow and two sons, Earl Ragsdale of this city and Frank Ragsdale of Kingfisher, Okla., and by three grandchildren. The following brothers and sisters also survive: Clarence Ragsdale of Rhea Mills; Ben R. Ragsdale of Huntington, W. Va.; E. O. Ragsdale of McKinney; Mrs. J. Willis Rasor of Frisco; Mrs. John M. Allen of Belleville, Ill.; and Mrs. Ed Klapper of Tonkawa, Okla.

Mrs. Oscar George, Collin county statistician, reports that up to November 1, there had been 61,060 bales of sotton ginned in Collin county as compared with 56,304 bales at the same time last year. Thus, it is seen that this year's ginnings still continue a few thousand bales ahead of last year's record, despite the plow-up campaign, this year in which from twenty-five to fifty per cent of the crop in this county was destroyed.

The condition of R. L. Leonard, who has been ill for several days,

DISPLAY BULLET-RIDDLED CAR IN M'KINNEY

A bullet riddled car belonging to Robert D. Snyder of Preston Hollow Estates, Dallas, stolen from him at pistol's point by two escaped jailbirds and later captured in a gun battle at Houston by police of that city, was on exhibit briefly at the Universal Car company, Ira Anderson, manager, here, Thursday afternoon.

This automobile, a new Ford V-8 coupe, attracted much attention and was viewed by hundreds of people while on exhibit here.

The bandits were in this car when they held up a filling station operator in Fort Worth, getting away with a large sum of money and a tank of gasoline. Both men are under penitentiary sentences and escaped recently from the Hunt County pail, at Greenville, having been taken there from the penitentiary for questioning.

COUNTY AGENT SENDS LETTER TO WHEAT GROWERS

County Farm Agent Jack McCullough has sent the following letter to Collin wheat growers:

Dear Wheat Growers:

You have indicated by signing an application to reduce your wheat acreage that you are willing to cooperate with the government, and by so doing you are to be congratulated for your actions. To further cooperate with the government, you have not yet planted wheat, should measure your land accurately and not plant more than your three year average less 15 per cent. The land should be measured and staked off, and wheat should not be planted beyond the limits.

Those who have already planted wheat, and have not measured their land, should do so now, and if more than your three year average less 15 per cent has been planted, it should be plowed up now, and the land prepared for other crops.

The land taken out of production, which is 15 per cent of your three years average should also be staked off. The following uses of this land are permitted.

It may be used for production of livestock or livestock products for home use, but not for sale. It may be used for the production of food or feed crops for home use but not for sale. It may be seeded to soil-building, weed-controlling, or erosion-preventing crops. It may be allowed to lie idle or be summer-fallowed, but under no circumstances can any crop for sale, directly or indirectly, be grown upon land taken out of wheat production.

Sincerely,
J. P. McCULLOUGH,
County Agent.

H. Grady Giles, Anna banker, was a business visitor in McKinney, Saturday. He called at the Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette office to order some funeral notices printed for the late Jonas A. Smith, of Anna, which was held Sunday afternoon with burial in the old Highland cemetery. The deceased was the father of Prof. W. S. Smith, former county public school superintendent of this county.

Rev. H. B. Chambers, pastor of the Methodist church at Princeton last year, was recently changed to Merit, where he and his family have moved. His son, Henry Chambers, is a low senior in McKinney High school, and will continue in school here for this school year. Henry is a member of the 1933 McKinney High football squad.

Prof. J. T. (Doe) Rollins, head of the vocational agriculture department of McKinney High school was one of the referees at the Farmersville-Honey Grove football game in the East Collin city Friday. Honey Grove won the game.

Country Newspaper Story Describes Sausage-Making

It is really a grand and glorious feeling to be awakened on a crispy chilly morning with the rich aromatic smell of delicious country pork sausage finding its way through the house as it is prepared for breakfast.

For several years, it is reported many of our good farmers got out of the habit of making very much pork sausage because its flavor many times caused belching and indigestion. But the fine art of sausage making has now been made easy, even for those with little or no experience. Even the unpleasantness of belching and ugly after-effects of indigestion has been reduced to a minimum when an especially scientifically blended sausage seasoning, which is properly balanced, is used. Such a seasoning has been on the market for four years now and our merchants in this county report increased sales each year.

Hog-killing time is actually here again. Breakfast tables almost groan with tantalizing flavored pork sausage and eggs, griddle cakes, and syrup, coffee and cream. No one enjoys such a breakfast more than our good farmers and we town folks because such a meal is energy producing, enables us to go about our labors and school work with more vim and enthusiasm.

Scientific tests show that fresh, wholesome pork sausage, properly made and seasoned is not only easily digested but is one of the most nourishing foods known to mankind.

The average person perhaps does not realize it but it has been discovered that the digestability and food value of pork sausage depends first, upon good meat and second, upon proper seasoning. The skill and experience necessary to properly season pork sausage, however, has often meant failure in the past to the average home sausage maker. Our farmers always have had good wholesome fresh pork and now they may have proper seasoning, which brings about that good old fashioned country flavor simply by calling on almost any of our representative grocers or market men in the county.

This good old fashioned seasoning is scientifically manufactured and blended according to seasoning strength as determined through chemistry. It is not just a mixture of ground spice and herbs but is a complete blend in itself including salt. There is nothing to add. Each ingredient is of the highest quality obtainable because the manufacturer believes that the best is none too good when it comes to feeding the American farmer. This seasoning is approved by Good Housekeeping and each package contains this label. Look for this Good Housekeeping label on the package, it is your assurance of the best.

The seasoning is widely used. Over 135 million pounds of sausage being made with it last year. Any one interested may obtain samples and further information about this seasoning from several of the leading food stores in this county.

Visitor Finds McKinney Is Friendly City

McKinney has long enjoyed the reputation of being one of the friendliest towns in North Texas. This was given substantial proof Friday morning when, in conversation with this editor C. W. Sandford, young Dallas business man and representative of the I. C. S., told us the following story. He arrived on the 8:12 interurban here Friday morning and decided to walk around the square and the business section while waiting for an appointment. In the space of thirty minutes our fellow townsmen gave him, a total stranger, fifty-six happy "good morning" greetings. Although he had been here two or three times before, Mr. Sandford, knew only a few of our people.

He visits several towns over the state and says that it is no idle boast that "Magnificent McKinney" is the friendliest town he has ever been in.

DEATH CALLS WALNUT GROVE MAN SATURDAY

A. E. Williams, aged 50 years, 1 month and 23 days, died at his late home in the Walnut Grove community Saturday about midnight. Funeral services were held at the Baptist church at Walnut Grove Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock conducted by Rev. Bowen and Rev. Gaines. The Issac Crouch Funeral home had charge of arrangements. Interment was made in Wise cemetery.

The deceased was born in Arkansas, September 19, 1883, and had resided in this county about two years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. T. Williams of Walnut Grove, and one brother, C. R. Williams of South Texas. His father, five sisters and one brother, preceded him to the grave.

IMPROVEMENTS BEING MADE ON TEXAS THEATER

BY ROY L. BROCKMAN; ADDITIONAL SEATS TO BE INSTALLED

ROY L. BROCKMAN

Roy L. Brockman, proprietor of the Ritz and Texas theaters, had workmen start Thursday building an addition to the Texas theater, on East Louisiana street. On account of his growing business, Mr. Brockman found it necessary to add more seating space, which will accommodate about 100 more patrons, making 400 in all, as soon as improvements are completed.

The building on East Louisiana street is owned by W. B. Mitchell, progressive, well-known druggist and property owner, and Senator H. A. Finch. The addition will be made on the north end of the building. The work commencing today, Mets Scott having the contract. It will take some ten days or two weeks to complete the work.

We congratulate Roy L. Brockman upon the wonderful success the Texas theater has made. It is a high class, first class theater, with only a five and ten cent admission.

Mr. Brockman is also proprietor of the Ritz theater, on the north side of the square, one of the outstanding and best equipped theaters in Texas. For nearly twenty years he has been engaged in the theater business in our city, prior to the World war, where he served as an oversees soldier, and taking up his chosen work after returning from the World war. He is a man of pleasing address, kind, courteous and is popular and well-liked by our entire citizenship.

When the improvements, now being made on the Texas theater, are completed, Mr. Brockman believes he will be able to seat all of his patrons. He is a liberal, constant advertiser in the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette.

His wife preceded him in death several years ago.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Annie Dixon, at whose home he passed away; Mrs. C. T. Jones, of Overton, Texas; and Mrs. Mary Pulliam, of Vickery.

INFORMATION WANTED BY OUR COUNTY AGENT

WANTS NAMES OF EVERY-ONE WHO HASN'T RECEIVED CHECK

County Farm Agent Jack McCullough is announcing to every farmer in Collin county, who plowed up cotton and who has not yet received his check, that he would like to get their name and address at his office as soon as possible. He would also like to know the contract number, number of acres plowed up, yield per acre, amount of money due him. Also if he took the option plan. Agent McCullough would like to know the number of bales the farmers has an option on. Serial number of contract number is very important and the county agent must have them.

Agent McCullough says that nearly all of the checks have been received by Collin county farmers, but there are a few who have not received same. Some 4,000 of these checks have been handled through the county agent. Agent McCullough is anxious for the above information as soon as possible, he said Thursday.

IN COUNTY MOTOR SUCCEEDS UNIVER-SAL CAR CO.

nge in business circles of able note has just taken e McKinney in which the County Motor Company ecessors to the Universal mpany, who have been Ford automobiles and 25 East Virginia street. Compton of Dallas, an ing Texas business man, new owner and president ompany. W. W. Moss of Sam Smith of Maybank, secretary and treasurer, comprise the new company.

All are experienced high-class business men, Mr. Moss having already moved to McKinney with his family. Mr. Smith has also moved to McKinney.

By reading the advertising columns of the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette you will note the business change.

The retiring of the Universal Car company, after seven or eight years of successful business duration in our county, with Ira Anderson as manager, and his splendid force of employes, will be regretted in our city and county. But, it will also be noted with pleasure that Mr. Moss, the new manager, will retain the entire force, except Mr. Anderson, who voluntarily retires, and who will wind up the old business of the firm, and Mrs. Virgil Hicks, with Mr. Anderson.

Tax Collector To Visit Precincts To Collect Taxes

Owing to the fact that the time is short, and a number of the taxpayers may wish to take advantage of the "split tax" law and make payments of the first half of their 1933 taxes,taxcollector N. D. Ready is preparing to give the taxpayers every opportunity and convenience in making their 1933 tax payments. Mr. Ready has prepared a schedule of points to visit and the hours he will be there. Owing to the fact that some may not understand the split tax law requirements, Mr. Ready says that if one half of the taxes are paid on or before Nov. 30, the remainder can then be paid by the last of June, 1934. Otherwise taxes must be paid by Feb. 1, under the one payment plan. After taxes have become delinquent there is a penalty of 10 per cent added to the original amount.

The following places will be visited on the dates mentioned by Mr. Ready or a deputy by Nov. 30, the final date for split tax payments:

Farmersville, Monday, Nov. 20, all day.

Weston, Monday, Nov. 20, until 11:30 a. m.

Celina, Monday, Nov. 20, afternoon.

Westminster, Tuesday, Nov. 21, until 11:30 a. m.

Anna, Tuesday, Nov. 21, afternoon.

Prosper, Wednesday, Nov. 22, until 11:30 a. m.

Frisco, Wednesday, Nov. 22, afternoon.

Pike, Thursday, Nov. 23, until 11 a. m.

Blue Ridge, Thursday, Nov. 23, afternoon.

Wylie, Friday, Nov. 24, all day.

Plano, Saturday, Nov. 25, all day.

Josephine, Tuesday, Nov. 28, until 11 a. m.

Nevada, Tuesday, Nov. 28, afternoon.

ANNA

Miss Lula Estep

In the death Saturday, November 11, of Jones Austin Smith, 84, blacksmith and woodworker, Anna lost one of its most worthy Christian citizens. He had been ill for sometime. He was born, February 1, 1849, in Russell county, Kentucky, was the son of Henry and Mary Smith.

He married Miss Elizabeth Thomas, in November, 1867, in the state of Kentucky who died soon after the family moved to Texas in 1890. Six years later he married a second time. He was a devout member of the Baptist church and a faithful member of the Masonic fraternity.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Anna Baptist church conducted by his pastor, Rev. M. M. Barnett, assisted by Dr. G. O. Key of McKinney and Rev. A. L. Leake of Plano. Burial followed in Old Highland cemetery. Pallbearers were H. G. Giles, L. H. Goforth, W. L. Roper, J. D. Mote, J. T. Shaw and James Laud Rattan. One of his children is Prof. W. S. Smith of McKinney, former county superintendent of schools.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Mary Ellen McDonough and the following children: W. S. Smith, McKinney; S. R. Smith, Collinsville; S. J. Smith, of Anna; Mrs. C. A. Morgan, Mrs. W. G Strother and Miss Mary Smith, all of Anna. Two sons have died, Dr. Paul Smith, and Henry Smith. Ten children and fourteen great-grandchildren are left with these other relatives to mourn his passing. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in North Collin.

B. T. Morgan, residing on McKinney Route 5, was a business visitor here Tuesday.

OLD FATHER HERE ON VERY SAD MISSION

We received a welcome call from our good old friend, T. J. Taylor, Monday, who paid for the Weekly Democrat-Gazette to be sent him a year to Crowell, Texas, where he has been ever since June and expects to spend the coming winter with his son, R. L. Taylor, and wife who live on their farm, seven miles south of Crowell. Mr. Taylor reached his seventy-ninth birthday on August 12, last. He is in very good health, but is greatly saddened over the tragic death of his only daughter, Mrs. J. C. Flannery of Celina who died, November 2, from injuries received October 28, when she was struck and knocked down by an auto while crossing the street in Denton. Mr. Flannery was visiting her daughter, Lucille, who is a student in college, at Denton, when the fatal accident happened. It was not realized at first that her injuries were of a serious nature. Her burial took place at Cottage Hill Saturday, November 4. Mr. Taylor's son, R. L. Taylor, came with him to McKinney on the sad mission. Another son, Bedford, Taylor, and wife came from Burkburnett to also attend the funeral. T. J. Taylor was born August 12, 1854, in DeKalb county, Tennessee, and moved his family to Texas in 1892 and raised his children on a farm near McKinney. His good wife died in 1897. Mr. Taylor is a good man with lots of friends. He has six children left, all sons. They are Simon of Melissa, Zollie, a merchant of McKinney; R. L. Taylor, a farmer in Foard county, near Crowell; ex-County Clerk Shirley G. Taylor, now of Farmersville; Ollie Taylor of Fort Worth and Bedford Taylor of Burkburnett. Another son, T. J. (Bud) Taylor, Jr., died some years ago soon after his election as District Clerk of this county.

HARRIS FUNERALS IN EVERY NEIGHBORHOOD

A large number of families in McKinney and surrounding territory would never think of calling any one else, but Harris for funerals.

These families are located far and near but Harris' service does away with the question of distance because they have the equipment and "KNOW HOW."

These families know that a "funeral by Harris" is the deepest proof of their final devotion. It is this large number of families that has made Harris' service so thoroughly established.

Harris' funerals are famous for their unusual arrangement and direction and are surpassed in service and equipment. They are evidently different and satisfying.

So no matter where you live or your distance away, call Harris, of-course!

There will be no regrets.

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE OFFICERS ARE ANNOUNCED

Prof. F. M. Scott, principal of the J. L. Greer (North) Ward school, recently elected for the third successive year to head the Interscholastic League of Collin county, held here each spring, announces a list of directors who will have charge of the event for the 1933-34 school year. The complete roster of directors follows:

General, F. M. Scott, McKinney.

Debate, R. F. Hartman, Nevada.

Declamation, W. H. Frazier, McKinney, Rt. 4.

Extem. Speak, D. M. Howell, Farmersville.

Spelling, Miss Louise Martin, McKinney, Rt. 2.

Essay Writing, Mrs. Sam Wysong, Prayer.

Athletics, Stanley Thomas, Plano.

Music Memory, Miss Winnie Douglas, Celina.

Choral Singing, Miss Mary Lou Graves, Melissa.

Playground Ball, O. L. Barker, Frisco.

Volley Ball (B & G), R. J. Edwards, Westminster.

Tennis, Damon Smart, Melissa.

Girls Basket Ball, Paul Henderson, Allen.

School Exhibits, Miss Florence Helton, Anna.

Picture Memory, Miss Alyne Scott, Wylie.

Arithmetic, Mrs. Edna Powers, Princeton.

Mrs. John H. Beauchamp and two daughters, Misses Augusta and Elena, all of Greenville, visited their son and brother, John H. Beauchamp Jr., in McKinney Saturday. The latter has apartments in the pretty, big, close-in home of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Dillow and holds a responsible position with the Williams-Eubank Wholesale grocery establishment of this city.

BLIND SOLDIER NOTIFIED OF DEEP PENSION CUT

Billy DeBow, who with his wife and four little children ranging in ages from eight to thirteen live in one of Add G. Wilson's rent houses, 505 North Chestnut street, has returned from a week's visit to his sister, Mrs. Will Scott, and husband on a farm in the Clearlake community. He states that his sister has a fall garden that has about as big a variety of fresh vegatables in it as a spring garden ordinarily has. He had a fine time during his week's visit, eating fresh, tender, roasting ears, green beans and other late fall garden vegetables.

Mr. DeBow was a Spanish American War soldier, serving in Company E. First Texas Infantry, in which Blaine DeArmond, McCarty Moore, T. D. (Darius) Emerson, Graves DeArmond and other McKinney boys also served. They were trained in camps at Miami and Jacksonville, Florida, and Mobile, Alabama. These were strenuous times for Uncle Sam's soldier boys who were fed on canned goods largely out of which grew the famous prosecution for feeding them in malaria infected camps. Many died, one or two from this county. Mr. Debow has been blind practically for the last four or five years. For the past three years, totally blind. He is still cheerful, good natured, although he has no other income to support for himself, wife and four little children other than his $50 Spanish-American war service pension. He has just been notified that beginning November 1, this pension will be cut down to only $14 per month. He says he doesn't know how his wife and children are going to be clothed and fed or himself taken care of in the future, but that he is trusting a kindly fate that isn't yet in sight and hopes that he and his dependent little brood may be enabled to get enough food to keep soul and body together.

D. A. Saunders of Greenville was a business visitor in McKinney Saturday. He has been reappointed one of the three supervisors of the Collin County Levee Improvement District No. 1, about sixteen or seventeen miles southeast of McKinney. The other two members of the board of supervisors appointed with Mr. Saunders are A. L. Carpenter, of Farmersville, and James Brooks of the Mesquite community.

Miss Gertrude Arnold is one of our most appreciative readers of the Weekly Democrat-Gazette, at Anna, where she is secretary of the Home Demonstration club, one of the livest clubs of the kind in the county.

AMERICAN CHEESE MADE BY COLLIN CLUB WOMEN

COUNTY HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT MISS DUNLAP'S RECIPE

This editor has sampled some American home-made cheese made on the farm right here in Collin county that is of excellent quality and taste. Miss Helen Dunlap, County Home Demonstration agent here, teaches her club women and girls how to make this nourishing and palatable article of food right on the farm. Miss Dunlap says that this cheese should be made during the cool season of the year and that the present is an excellent time to begin for those who are interested in making it. It should cure for about four weeks in a cool dry place where it will get plenty of fresh air. The cheese is made by the following recipe:

1. Heat five gallons of fresh milk to 86 degrees Fahrenheit.
2. Add coloring. Use ½ tablet disolved in 1 tablespoon cold water, or one scant teaspoon liquid coloring.
3. Add ½ Number 2 rennet tablet which has been disolved in one pint of cold water. (It requires ½ hour for the rennet to disolve.) Stir three minutes after the rennet has been added.
4. Cover the milk and let stand perfectly still for at leat 30 minutes. The curd is ready to cut if it splits smoothly when the finger is inserted. It will require from 30 to 60 minutes for the milk to curdle.
5. Cut curd in cubes as quickly as possible with a long knife.
6. Let it stand till the whey begins to rise.
7. Heat the mixture to 100 degrees Fahrenheit and hold at that temperature for 45 minutes. Stir all the time during the heating process.

Drain off the whey, stirring all the time to prevent the curd from matting together.

9. Add the salt to the curd. Usually it takes about three tablespoons.
10. A cheese mold can be made from a syrup bucket, with two wooden ends made to fit just inside the bucket after the bottom and top rim have been melted out. A number of holes should be made in each wooden end as a means of draining off whey. A lard press is also good for pressing the cheese.
11. Line the mold with cheese cloth.
12. Put the wooden bottom in one end and pack the curd in the press. Add the other wooden end at the top and apply pressure.
13. A lever over the mold will serve for pressure by using about 50 pounds of weight on a 6 foot lever.
14. The curd should be kept in the press for about 24 hours. Remove then and place in a cool dry place. Turn twice a day for two weeks.
15. Paraffin after two weeks, by dipping and rolling the cake in paraffin heated to about 220 degrees.
16. Store in a cool dry place for two more weeks to cure. A temperature of about 60 degrees is most desirable.

Miss Jennie Marie Wilson, who attends C. I. A., spent the week-end with her parents, Postmaster and Mrs. Wallace C. Wilson.

GIVES HISTORY OF THE FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH

READ AT MID-WEEK SERVICE BY L. M. GODDARD

L. M. Goddard read a very interesting history of the First Christian church at the mid-week prayer meeting service of that church. This history gives familiar names in the church history, important dates and other interesting facts. The history follows:

The Christian church in McKinney was organized by Eld. J. B. Wilmeth in 1848, April 1. Eld. Wilmeth was for many years county and district clerk of Collin county. The meeting at which the church was organized was probably held in a new barn, or as one informant suggested, a blacksmith shop, where a group of the early followers of this faith had been in the habit of gathering, prior to the church organization. The meetings were afterward held in the court house, and later in a school house, under the Masonic hall on the lot now occupied by our fellow member and townsman, Mr. F. B. Pope. During this early period the congregation was ministered to by J. B. Wilmeth, Dr. Cartwright, J. Gough Jones and B. F. Hall, with more or less regularity.

In 1859 the first house of worship was erected on the lot house. In 1878 the building was torn down and repaired, it having been damaged in a cyclone. It was again remodeled in 1879, and in this house the congregation continued to worship until the present new and imposing building was erected.

From 1858 to 1876 the pulpit was occupied by B. F. Hall, Jas. T. Muse, T. W. Caskey, E. M. Wilmeth, R. C. Horn and perhaps some others whose names we cannot recall. Since 1877 the church has been constantly served by an uninterrupted procession of noble Christian men, viz: Kirk Baxter, 1877-78; Eld. Skiles, 1879-80; J. B. Faulkner, 1881-82-83; C. W. Sewell, 1884-86; J. B. Pinkerton, 1887-89; D. W. Pritchett, 1890-91-92; A. P. Terrell, 1893-94; S. W. Crutcher, 1895-96; and S. K. Hallam, 1897 and during whose ministry the present building was arranged for, built and dedicated. What a many, too many to mention in passing in this brief resume, gave both time and money to this cause, it remains that through the untiring efforts of this former pastor, S. K. Hallam, and the extreme and gracious liberality of L. D. Newsome, and his two sons, E. A. and W. B. that the project was given the necessary monetary momentum that made the present structure a possibility and on August 5, 1897, a reality as on this date the corner stone was laid with masonic ceremonies. Homer T. Wilson delivered the address at 11 o'clock. At 2:45 a reunion and memorial service was held and the Lord's supper celebrated. Brief talks were made by Elds. Chas. Carlton of Bonham; R. C. Horn, then of Vineland; J. B. Jenkins of Wylie and S. W. Crutcher of Planomall of whom had been former pastors at this place. This new building was fully dedicated for regular worship on Dec. 12, 1897 and it stands today a noble monument to the earnest effort, the constant sacrifice of time and talent, the prayerful spirit of those early Christian pioneers.

There are many names I could recall, Capt. J. H. Jenkins, Plummer Harris, Cope White, S. H. Fox and many many others, those old Christian soldiers who have gone on to their reward. If there have been any omissions or errors made, it is unintentional and apology is hereby offered, but as the source of such information as I have here given is limited and somewhat scattered and the time for preparation rather short I hope all will understand.

Since 1897, the time this new building was dedicated the congregation has been served regularly by G. A. Farris, R. R. Hamlin, J. M. Bell, Phillip King, Virgil Wallace and since the pastorate of Rev. Wallace, by our present pastor Bro. Clifford C. Weaver. The record of those noble men speaks for itself. They have kept the banner of Christianity ever afloat.

Thus, from a small beginning, humble surroundings and then untold obstacles which are nowhere recorded and cannot now be known, the Christian church, the oldest church organization in McKinney has beautifully blossomed and wonderfully progressed proving the words of our Savior, "where one or two are gathered together in thy name, I will be in the midst of them."

Funeral services for the late George H. Gerrish were held at 3:00 o'clock Friay afternoon, November 10, at the family home 212 East Colorado street, conducted by Rev. J. Ben Snider. The deceased died at 8:15 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 8.

Interment took place in Pecan Grove cemetery under the direction of the Sam J. Massie & Son funeral home.

Active pallbearers were C. J. Smith, Wallace C. Wilson, Hugh L. Kirkpatrick, J. M. Andrews, Joe Dorsey, John H. Holloman, Jim B. Goodner, and J. Weeden Franklin.

The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

Born in Maine.

George Henry Gerrish was born June 24, 1847, at Lebanon, in the state of Maine, being at the time of his death, eighty-six years, four months and fourteen days old. When he was about seven years old, his parents moved their family to Granby, near Montreal, One year, he lived with a French Canada. He attended school there. family who spoke nothing but French while he attended a French school for the purpose of acquiring the language which he learned to speak fluently. His own parents kept a French lad of the same age from the family with which he stayed for the same length of time in order to teach him the English language. His father, D. F. Gerrish, was a sailor and captain. His father was captain of a Union warship during the Civil War. The deceased, then a boy of sixteen or seventeen, was unusually developed and was given a position on his father's ship as First Class Oiler. The ship of his father was with the United States fleet off Fort Sumter and took part in the sea fighting at that time.

Move to Pennsylvania.

At the close of the Civil War, Capt. Gerrish moved his family to Pennsylvania and he and his son, George, worked in the newly developed oil fields of that state. The family then moved to Rolla, Mo.,, where the father and son were in the wagon making business, both being good mechanics. The deceased came to Texas in the early part of 1874 and joined the Texas Rangers, serving on the frontier of the Western part of the state protecting the settlers from Indian invasions. In the latter part of 1874, he came to McKinney where his parents had immigrated which he continued to call home for the remainder of life. On February 27, 1879, he led to the marriage altar Miss Mary Ellen Fisher, the late Rev. W. P. Cloyd, a beloved Cumberland Presbyterian minister of McKinney for many years, officiated at the wedding which was solemnized at the home of the late Jas. D. Coleman, about ten miles west of McKinney in the Coleman Gin or Fonoine community. Mr. Gerrish and bride settled on a farm, southwest of McKinney, and devoted his active remaining days of life to farming and stock raising. He was a great lover of race horses and good livestock and had a race course on his farm about four miles southwest of McKinney on which numerous horses were trained by him and others.

A Friend to All.

He had long been a member of the First Baptist church. Mr. Gerrish was unusually cheerful and optimistic in life. He was honest ,and these commendable qualities won him the friendship of every acquaintance. He took great pride in serving his neighbors and friends and helping those in need. Another one of his outstanding characteristics was his devoted care and concern for his wife and children. His home was an unusually affectionate one. It was always a joy to him to provide the best he could afford for his wife and children and to do those things that go to make good citizenship.

His Survivors.

He is survived by his wife, who had walked in happiness by his side for nearly fifty-five years; also by the following children: Wesley Gerrish, Twin Falls, Idaho; Hazel Gerrish, Pampa, West Texas; Beecham Gerrish, a McKinney business man; Mrs. H. S. Grimes and Mrs. Fred Coffey, both of McKinney, and Mrs. F. L. Adams of Abilene. His children all came for his funeral and burial except the son in Idaho who could not get here in time. He is also survived by a sister, Mrs. C. K. Miller, of Des Moines, Iowa, and by the following brothers: Dave Gerrish of San Antonio, Frank Gerrish of Virginia; Charles Gerrish of Florida and Martin E. Gerrish of Neosho, Missouri. One brother, A. L. Gerrish, passed away in McKinney, on August 31, 1931. His father, Dave F. Gerrish, died April 12, 1911, at the ripe old age of about 88. His mother died at the age of 73 on December 19, 1905.

Many out-of-town relatives and friends attended the absequies of this dear old husband, father, friend and veteran citizen who had lived here for nearly sixty years. Will C. Gerrish, prominent McKinney business man, is a nephew of the deceased.

Miss Mary Gene Franklin, student in C. I. A., was the week-end guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Weeden Franklin.
